

Description

Metal Mate 12 x 1mm x 3m Aluminium Round Tube is a silver round tube constructed from aluminium. It is engineered for use in precise metal fabrication, offering consistent dimensions and reliable material properties. The product supports various welding, bending, and assembly tasks and integrates easily into design and construction projects. Trade professionals benefit from its dependable performance and straightforward design for fabricating detailed components.

Features

- Aluminium alloy offers robust strength and lightweight design
- 12mm diameter round tube supports accurate engineering measurements
- 1mm wall thickness provides secure and efficient performance
- 3 metre length offers adaptability for varied applications
- Silver finish enhances visibility during manual handling
- Smooth surface facilitates easy cleaning and maintenance
- Precisely dimensioned for secure structural integrations
- Metal Mate quality ensures reliability in technical projects
