

Description

Metal Mate 16 x 1mm x 3m Aluminium Round Tube is a precision component designed for reliable use by trade professionals. Manufactured from aluminium with a silver finish, the round tube offers consistent durability and dimensional stability. Its shape simplifies integration and handling within fabricated systems, supporting effective design and functional performance. The product is built with clear specifications to meet practical application needs, enabling straightforward assembly and quality construction.

Features

- Precision manufactured from high-quality aluminium
- Reliable performance with consistent round shape
- Smooth silver finish for clear identification
- Long-lasting design for high-demand applications
- Easy fitting with standard industrial tools
- Consistent dimensions for accurate assembly tasks
- Corrosion resistant aluminium enhances system longevity
- Versatile tube size for customised fabrication solutions
