Metal Mate 19 x 19 x 1.2mm x 1m Aluminium Square Tube

Description

Metal Mate 19 x 19 x 1.2mm x 1m Aluminium Square Tube is a precisely engineered square tube constructed from aluminium with a silver finish. It offers a consistent square profile and uniform wall thickness designed for exact fabrication and assembly tasks. The tube is suitable for applications that demand reliable structure and technical precision in dimensional standards, providing a straightforward solution for constructing frameworks and load-bearing components in trade and professional projects.

Features

- Constructed from lightweight aluminium for easy handling
- Square geometry supports structural stability and strength
- Finished in silver for visual clarity and aesthetics
- Consistently machined for uniform dimensions and fit
- Accurate measurements suitable for precise engineering projects
- Engineered for hassle-free installation and straightforward integration
- Robust construction supports reliable performance over time
- Metal Mate trusted quality for consistent operational reliability
